Beyond simplicity, vCard-Property is versatile and can be used in print advertising, social media posts, digital documents and more. Reach out to more networks beyond your imagination.

Your vCard-Property is uniquely yours - no expiry date; your contacts information is dynamic and can be updated remotely through us anytime, anywhere - without changing your QR code image.

We made communication simple and efficient

The sample page shows a digital vCard for Philip Tan, a Property Consultant. It includes a profile picture, contact details (phone, email, address), a 'View on Google Maps' button, a website link, and a video player. Below the video is a 'Sample description' and social media icons. At the bottom, there is a link to a contact form and a 'Save vCard QR code' button.

Simply Add to Contacts and all contact information including your photograph will be imported – faster and easier than conventional method of typing.

Enquiry form

The enquiry form features a header with Philip's photo and name. It includes a 'Date of Submission' field (08-06-2022) and a 'Property Consultant' dropdown menu (Philip Tan). Below this is an 'About Myself' section with a message from Philip. The form also has fields for 'Your Name' (e.g. Mandy Zhang), 'Phone Number' (e.g. +65 80379375), and an optional 'Email' field.

vCard-Property comes with a professional form for clients to fill in their enquiry details.
